The Long, Long Trail

The dim trail calls to our hero bold,—
The trail that each of us must hold,—
And he answers to that mystic call
And smiles farewell to the world and all.

*He answered every call of trail
And now he passes beyond death's veil.*

Our hero lifts his hand on high,
And smilingly waves the world goodbye,
He lingers a moment and we see him thus
As the man who gave his best for us.

*He answered every call of trail
And now he passes beyond death's veil.*

The world of toil is left behind;
The distant trail is seen to wind
Into the skies to heaven's doors,—
To the very coast of sought-for shores.

*He answered every call of trail
And now he passes beyond death's veil.*

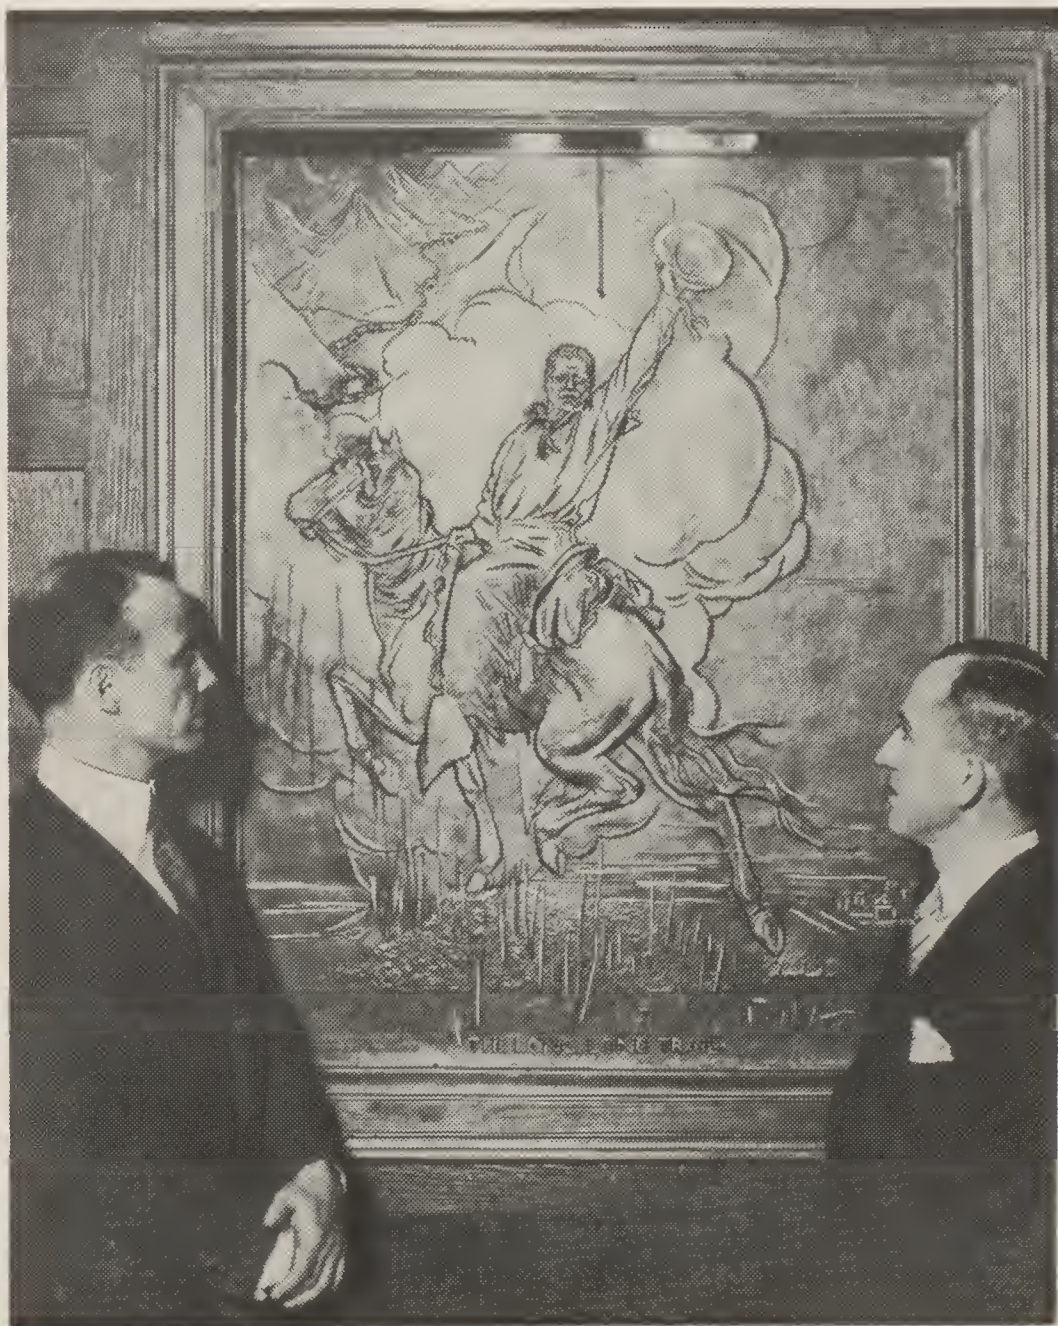

Hold him high shall we below
For better manhood we'll never know.
A man with a true heroic trait
Following up that trail of fate.

*He answered every call of trail
And he shall live though beyond death's veil.*

—W. R.

Honor Society

The highest honor bestowed upon a student by the faculty is membership into the National Honor Society.

The four essentials in which a student must qualify to become a member of this organization are: Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. The 15 per cent chosen must rank in the upper one-fourth of their class in scholarship.

Latin Club

The chief object of this club as stated in its Constitution is the study of Roman Life and Literature. During the past year this object was sought and attained especially, by the project of representing a Roman Wedding on the Ides of March, at which time the six Latin Club graduates of the January Class were feasted and toasted at a banquet served in regular Roman fashion and were even "crowned as victors." These guests of honor were: Reinhard Weissinger, Eleanor Mandelbaum, Ruth Cabbage, Ariel Corry, Betty French and Fritzie German.

Players' Club

The Roosevelt Players' Club is the Honorary Dramatic Society of the school. It is composed of twelve members elected after formal tryouts from a list named by the Nominating Committees of the Senior Dramatic Club. The club was organized by Mrs. Van Tuyl. At present Miss Hughes is the adviser. The members have worked hard directing plays and by assisting as property managers, costumers and make-up crew in various of the school productions.

Whenever an assembly is planned and assistance of a dramatic or public speaking nature is required, the Players Club is requested to help. The members present the plays which represent Roosevelt in the Drama Contests.

The Junior High Bird Club

The Junior High Bird Club has been active during the entire school year and has added much material to the school in the form of bird study. A large feeding tray was erected by the members early in the second semester and the feed has been donated by the members throughout the winter months. The club has brought several bird lecturers to the school whose talks have been most valuable to the boys. The purpose of the club is to create an enthusiasm in bird study and to encourage and foster a desire for the protection of bird life.

Mr. Harris

Coach Harris needs no introduction. At West High he turned out athletic teams that were feared throughout the state. In the closing of that school, by virtue of his well-known coaching ability, he was made head coach at Roosevelt. Although forced to take over a new team at the midyear, Coach Harris built up a basketball five that climbed a successful season by winning our District Tournament. It is the hope of all Rooseveltians that Coach Harris will remain here for many years to come.

Mr. Nelson

Mr. Willard C. Nelson has been athletic director at Roosevelt for the last five years, and his ability has been shown by the sound basis on which the athletic teams have been founded. He is coach of the swimming team and has turned out some of the best tankmen in the state. His relay team has held the state record for three years. He also is associated with the tennis teams. Mr. Nelson is one of the strongest boosters Roosevelt has and the school is proud to have such a man on the faculty as well as on our athletic staff.

Mr. Overtom

On his shoulders was placed a difficult task and right well did he acquit himself. A comparatively young man, as coaches go, he demonstrated his worth by turning out a football team that lost only one game during the entire season. On the advent of Coach Harris, Coach Overtom was given the job of instructing the normal gym classes where he introduced the popular competitive team plan. Through his love for sportsmanship and steadfastness of purpose, Coach Overtom has gained the respect and admiration of his many Roosevelt associates.

The "R" Club

The "honor students" of athletics—the monogrammed men—are organized into a club to serve their school in a united way. The "R" Club members are concerned with the athletic status of Roosevelt, the requirements for school insignia, and the maintenance of constructive school spirit. This club meets every two weeks.

RAY CLESS

Ray played his second year of football at an end position and did not receive all the honor he deserved. This speedy hoy who was down under punts the fastest was also one of the hardest tacklers on the squad, yet when the honor teams were picked, the writers overlooked some good football qualities in Cless.

GEORGE BRECK

Breck played a consistent game all season and deserves much credit for his work. Although George was not placed on the all-city selections many who played with him and against him felt he was deserving of this honor and of the one given him when he was mentioned on the Honor Roll of the all-state teams.

WILTON BREWER

The quarterback and brain position was very ably held down last fall by "Waddy" Brewer. He was the most dependable fellow on the squad and very few plays he called ever had to be checked. Brewer was a sure passer and one who played the game fair and square at all times.

Roosevelt lost a good man when "Waddy" graduated.

MILO BOWERS

This big fellow used his size to an advantage whenever the opportunity presented itself and so was awarded a berth on the all-city team and one on the all state second team picked by Jack North of the Register.

Bowers graduated in January.

HAROLD McMICHAEL

Another Irishman in the form of McMichael proved himself a real football player in every game which Roosevelt took a part. Harold was a hard hitting fullback who could open a hole with his drive if the line failed to do so. This was "Mike's" last year of football and it will be a hard job to fill his shoes next fall.

RAY HUGHES

Ray played his first year of football last fall and surely started out with a bang. Although many of our larger opponents hit our guard positions Hughes was always in with the steady old fight. He showed his true worth in our first three city-series games when he was in nearly every play through or around the line.

RAY HARDEN

Captain Ray Harden finished his three-year football career in a blaze of glory by his fine play against East in the last game of the 1927 season. He was picked on the all city team for the second time and honored with a third team berth on the all-state selections.

HAROLD HARDEN

Harold Harden was recognized by coaches and players alike to be one of the best centers who has ever played under the Blue and White of Roosevelt. He was picked by the city coaches for this position on the "all-city" team and he surely did deserve this honor. Harden will be back next year, and will probably captain the aggregation. He should make a strong bid for the "all-state" team.

The Roundup

BILL WEEKS

This large, rugged lad played a guard position and handled it in line style all season. It was Weeks along with Hughes who led interference most of the time for our backfield runners. Bill played his best game at Boone when he broke up the opponents' offensive drive and aided in the last forty-second victory.

Bill graduates in Summer School.

RUSSELL NOWLEN

Nowlen was general utility man and played nearly every position on the team at some time during the season. He showed his true make-up when he played a smashing game at the center position in the Boone game after having only one day's practice.

Russell bade Roosevelt good-bye last January.

BILL WRIGHT

Bill was handicapped all season by a hard luck jinx but in spite of this he was able to cap enough quarters in city-series games to win himself a monogram. This rangy lad's educated toe spelled defeat for Lincoln more than once during the 48 minutes of play and surely cannot be forgotten.

Wright will not be with us next fall.

CLIFFORD JORDAN

Cliff fought nearly every streak of bad luck that is possible to light so that he might play football last fall. He was bothered considerably with a weak vertebrae in his neck and was paralyzed after one practice from the effects of it. His home was then quarantined with scarlet fever and he lost two more weeks of his favorite sport. On top of these troubles Cliff had the determination and fight which gave him enough quarters for a letter.

Jordan will be graduated in June.

BOB McCURNIN

Although small and light this "fighting Irishman" substituted at a guard position in a way that an Irishman or anyone else could be proud of.

This was "Mac's" first and last year on the squad.

MILO COUGHLIN

Coughlin was a sub on the first squad who could run with the ball through an open field in good fashion. He collected nine quarters and a monogram.

Milo finishes high school in June.

DEAN PARKER

Parker was not a regular on the team but managed to be in eight quarters during the season and so received a monogram.

He will be back next fall.

BILLIE BILICK

Billick gained more yards during the season than any other man on the squad and so finished near the top in individual scoring among the five high schools. His speed along with 189 pounds proved too much for most of our opponents and consequently Billick was able to rip large holes in every line he played against. He was seen at his best in the Lincoln and West games.

The Season

ROOSEVELT VS. PERRY

The first Roosevelt team, coached by Leo J. Overtoom, opened the 1928 football season by downing the Perry High school eleven 13-0. The Blue and White aggregation showed up well on the defense but were not so good when it came to offensive play, probably because of the earliness of the season. The Perry boys were outplayed and Roosevelt brought home a well earned victory.

ROOSEVELT VS. CHARITON

In the second game of the season Chariton High battled the Blue and White to a scoreless tie in a sea of mud and water. The Roosevelt line was especially adapted to recovering fumbles and this gave Chariton much trouble since hanging on to the slippery ball was a game in itself. The game was mostly a punting duel as no ground could be made in the mud. Roosevelt lost a chance to score when they recovered a fumble on the Chariton 8-yard line and were unable to put the ball over.

ROOSEVELT VS. BOONE

Coach Overtoom's eleven was able to win from Boone during the last minute of play with a single touchdown and place kick margin. The powerful Boone offense proved too much for the Roosevelt lads but they were able to hold their own when the goal line shadowed the backs of the players. It was a hard game, packed with thrills from the starting whistle to the final gun report but was probably the last time a Roosevelt eleven will play at Boone.

ROOSEVELT VS. JEFFERSON

Roosevelt continued in the undefeated class when they walked off with the Jefferson High school scalp after handing them a 6-0 beating. The fast and clever small-town boys were game and fought against heavy weight, time and time again, only to be driven back by the powerful Roosevelt offense. The score is no indication of the game as the Roosevelt team walked up and down the field at will only to lose the ball on downs when they neared their opponents' goal.

ROOSEVELT VS. LINCOLN

Roosevelt found Lincoln easy in her initial city-series game and came out in good shape with the long end of a 19-0 score. The small Lincoln eleven was no match for the large Roosevelt line and the rushes of its powerful backfield, yet it was able to hold a Roosevelt second team on even terms in the third quarter when no regulars were used by the winners. This game was the first one of the season that really proved what the Roosevelt offense could do as the outside games only netted a total of twenty-six points.

ROOSEVELT VS. WEST

For two years the annual game between West and Roosevelt elevens ended in a scoreless tie but the game of 1927 was destined to be different, for the Roughriders had no trouble in downing, with a 27-0 score, the last team to ever represent West. Again the weight and speed of the Roosevelt team proved to be the reason for victory and it was a well earned one in every way. This ended a perfect five years' competition with our West-end friends and they will always be remembered as a clean, hard-fighting aggregation.

ROOSEVELT VS. NORTH

North High managed to score on the Roosevelt team first but were unable to keep up the pace during the last quarter and so had to be satisfied with the six points of an 18-6 score. Playing in snow-drakes and with the temperature around freezing both teams waged a furious battle to eliminate the other from running for city championship honors. However, the lasting drive of the Rooseveltians was too much for the North-siders and the score proves it to have been a victory well earned by the winner.

ROOSEVELT VS. EAST

Roosevelt's hopes for another city championship were smashed by a representative team from Lee Township when they handed the West-end school its first defeat in two years. The score was 35-7 for East High. However, the Roosevelt men deserve much credit for fighting every minute when all odds were against them. The morale of the team was soundly shaken when Bowers was taken from the game and when Harold Harden was injured and removed.

Basket-Ball Letter Men

BILL WRIGHT

Bill was rated by many critics as the best center in the city. He was dependable in the pinches and led the team through a fine season from the center position. He won his second basket ball monogram.

HAROLD McMICHAEL

Mike's characteristic drive and fighting spirit made him a valuable guard on th's year's "B" team and he won his second letter in the cage sport. His fine defensive play will be missed next year.

CLARENCE COOPER

Cooper played his first year of basket ball and developed into a dependable player. His height was greatly to his advantage and he was a worthy substitute on our "varsity."

HAROLD BREED

Harold came from West High at the beginning of the second semester and played in every game from a guard post. Next year he should help greatly in developing a championship squad. His work was outstanding in the sectional tourney and he was a unanimous choice for the all-city team.

KENNETH DAHLMAN

Kenny came from West High at the beginning of the second semester and greatly strengthened our team in a forward position. He will be one of the letter men back next year, until January.

GILBERT PHILLIPS

"Gib" was the most dependable sub of the season, playing every position in fine style. His work during the sectional tourney pulled us out of many tight places.

RUSSELL BASKERVILLE

Although "Russ" was the midget of our squad, he held down a forward on the first team most of the season. His fast floor game and fighting spirit helped his team to a successful season.

PAUL DALY

Paul was given a monogram this season because of his steady, consistent playing as forward on the "C" team. He was a valuable sub for the team of the year before.

CLIFFORD JORDAN

"Cliff" played his third year of basket ball and was captain of the "B" team. He was out of the sectional tourney because of illness. He won his monogram while playing a guard position.

DEAN PARKER

Dean was a dependable guard and played a fine driving game. His opponents learned to respect his uncanny eye for long shots. Dean won his first monogram this year, but he will be one of the mainstays of next year's team.

The Roundup

Basket-Ball Letter Men

FRED SWANSON

Fred played a good game as forward on the "B" team and was a dependable sub in all of the games with outside schools. His work this year shows promise of a fine future for him next season.

ED BECKER

Ed was instrumental in bringing the sectional championship to Roosevelt. His fine work in the final game with North will always be remembered. He played all last year on the "D" team at forward. He was voted a monogram. He will be back next year.

GEORGE SKINNER

George played a forward position all year. His last minute basket in the North game won the sectional championship for Roosevelt. George won his basket ball letter.

HONORABLE MENTION

"Waddy" Brewer, who captained the Roosevelt team for the first semester, deserves much credit for the showing of the squad. He was graduated in January.

Russell Nowlen and Don Williams were also forced out at the end of the first semester, because of graduation, but their work was outstanding while they were here.

Basket-Ball Season Summary

The basket ball team made its debut under Coach Overtoom on December 15, when the four teams played North. In the round-robin games of the first semester, the teams met with mediocre success. On January 13, we played the first out-of-town foe in our history and met with defeat at the hands of Chariton, 13 to 18. However, on the last day of the first semester, Coach Overtoom put a team on the floor that outscored the highly touted Washington High team from Cedar Rapids, 25 to 20.

The following week, Coach Harris took over the reigns and his teams fared better. Breed and Dahlenman from West strengthened the team greatly. In the round-robin games, we raised our standings considerably and finished with the "A" and "B" teams in second place and the other squads in third place in the city standings.

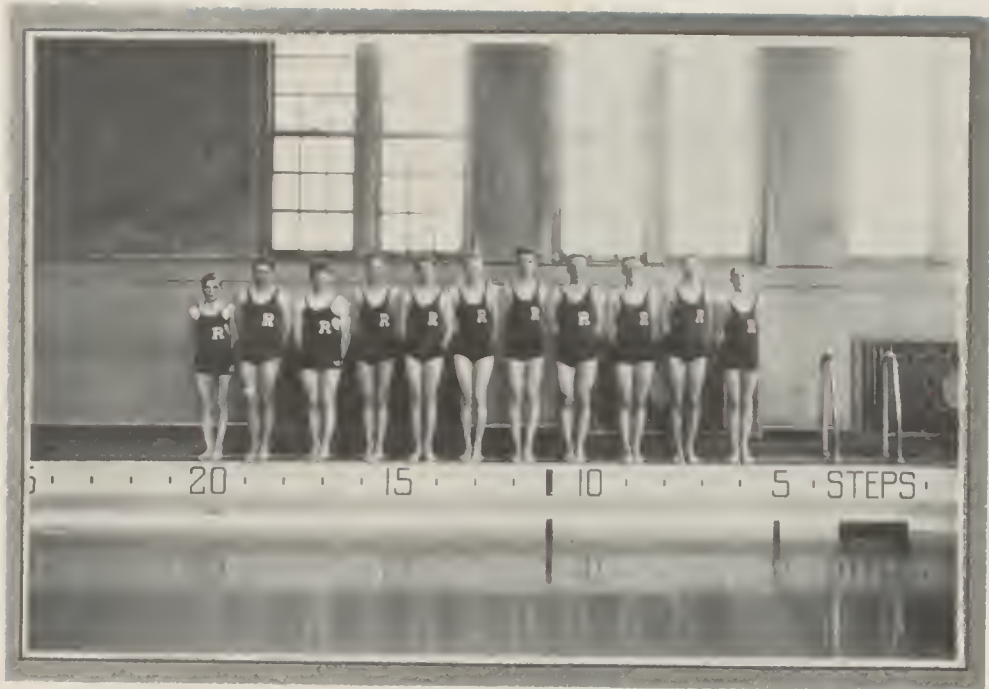

In a return game with Cedar Rapids on February 18, we lost by the score of 28 to 19. The following week, Clear Lake came here and received their first defeat of the year at the hands of our "varsity," 33 to 25.

On March 2 and 3, the sectional tourney was held at the Drake Fieldhouse and our men carried off the honors.

In the district tourney a week later on our own floor, we were eliminated in the first round by Delphos. This game closed the season for our squad.

Championship

Roosevelt is becoming a school of champions. We, as a school, are swiftly climbing to the top in every realm of sport competition. Roosevelt teams are feared and respected all over our state and its name is spreading slowly into further lands of conquest. Roosevelt men have gone far in stiff college and university competition.

This institution has just closed its fifth annual campaign of turning out real men to face the further struggles of life. Only five years of age, still in its infancy, but our school has surpassed the endeavors of institutions many times its own age.

In four years its footballs team had gained the championship of the city and in its last two years of competition has lost only one game in sixteen starts.

The basket-ball team of the third year came through with the undisputed championship in all classes, winning thirty out of thirty-two games. In 1927, the following year, we gained the "A" and "D" team championships in the round-robin play, only to be beaten in a great upset in the city tournament. This year's team upheld the standard set by our former squads and carried off the sectional championship in a tourney at the Drake Fieldhouse.

For three years now, we have been near the top in track. In 1926, we were a close second in the race for the state championship. The following year, we won our district meet, placed high in the state meet and lost the city championship to East by the slight margin of a point and a half. This year, we are well on our way to bettering these standards and should win the city meet.

Our swimming team has always placed high in the various meets and exceptional marks have been established, but this year, we carried off high honors in the City Conference Meet for the first time. Prospects are even better for next year's team to be a winner.

As for tennis and golf, Roosevelt has always taken the lead. Since the first year, when we carried off the State High School Singles Championship, we have been on the top in tennis, and our golf team has always been one of the best in the state.

And so as champions, may Roosevelt's representatives ever play as Theodore Roosevelt said, "Hit the Line Hard, But Hit it Square!" and may many more championships be ours.

Miss Quiner

Miss Quiner, having an excellent knowledge of swimming, was, on her entrance to Roosevelt over a year ago, immediately put in charge of the girls swimming classes. She has been instrumental in promoting swimming as a recreation by teaching life saving and various kinds of the more difficult strokes. Miss Quiner was so popular with the girls that she was chosen as adviser of the Shark's Club and as the swimming mentor of the G. A. A.

Miss Olesen

Miss Olesen came to Roosevelt when it first opened, and has made a fine record as adviser of the Girl's Athletic Association, an organization which she started shortly after her arrival. Through her unselfish work in this line she has made the G. A. A. one of the most successful groups in school. At different times Miss Olesen has acted as adviser of the golf teams, only this spring relinquishing her position over the boys' team to Mr. Overtom but retaining the leadership of the girls.

Miss Wiley

Also a native Rooseveltian Miss Wiley has, besides her regular girls' physical education work, taken charge of the tennis team which reached the finals in the tournament. This spring she is at the head of a promising aggregation that already has an overwhelming victory over Lincoln to its credit. Miss Wiley has been untiring in her efforts in behalf of the tennis teams in addition to her regular gymnasium duties.

The G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association is the medium through which the high school recognizes activities for girls on the same basis as it recognizes athletic completion for boys.

The aim in girls' athletics is to have every girl participate in some form of physical activity, rather than have a limited number participate because of superior physical prowess. Every girl is urged to win 150 points for a year or class numerals, 300 points for the school letter and 600 points for the state emblem.

FLAPPER GIRL

With apologies to Whittier

Fie on you! you little flirt
 With thy short and gauzy skirt!
 Through thy blond hair curled in place
 Behold we now, your painted face!
 With thy red lips, redder still,
 Touched with lipstick from a mill;
 And thy silly, slang-filled talk,
 Never walk, but always ride,
 With some poor fool at thy side,
 Never hear the cardinal's trills;
 Always boosting father's bills,
 At your height when in the dark,
 In movie, or amusement park,
 Laughingstock of all the town,
 As you slowly mince along,
 Content with any silly thing,
 Thy future—what the day may bring.
 From my heart I hope that you,
 May see yourself as others do!

Emma Gray.

Mr. Zelliott had been giving a lecture on modern inventions. "Can any of you boys tell me of anything of importance which did not exist fifty years ago?"

"Me," exclaimed Burton.

Mr. Carrothers, to son: "Go wash your face and neck."

Bright son: "Neck whom?"

Miss Elwood, reading a typing for correction: "A little sawed hyphen off man."

Roosevelt As It May Be Some Day

Everyone skating from class to class.
 Class rooms fitted up with comfortable upholstered furniture.

Refreshment stands at convenient places around the building.

Chimes instead of those harsh bells which disturb the students.

Text books with gaily colored covers.

Teachers who think it advisable for pupils to catch up on lost sleep at school.

Half-hour rest period between each class—studying is so strenuous you know.

Lunch whenever you feel like it—which is every few hours.

Kind-hearted people who will wake you up when it's time to go home.

Sorry—I'm afraid you won't be here to enjoy it, but maybe your great-grandchildren will.

Address of a Conquering Football Hero

Er-uh-uh I am very glad that we won the game and a-a-a-am sure that the team appreciates your support. Er-uh-uh it was the hardest game we had and—uh I know the team put everything they had into the game and—a-a I am sorry both teams could not win but—uh the best one er-uh-uh did. (Blushes as everyone howls.)

Er-uh it isn't all winning a game to just play; you must have uh the support of your school supporters. (Turns fiery red, backs off and sits down.)

An Everyday Drama

Silence brooded over the room,

And an air of watchful waiting,
 Glances at watches—the time was soon,
 And there must be no hesitating.

The teacher's voice drones on and on

About some silly matter.

Doesn't she know the time's most gone??

Her words on unheeding ears patter.

Pretty near time—a minute—oh, well,

See the smoke clouds curl,

Three fifteen, at last the bell

"Lemme by—gotta meet my girl."

Roberta Shular (making a book report):
 "The first two papers tell all about Napoleon's family and Napoleon is born on page three."

Vernie Grant: I use to be on my girl's mind continually, but—

Gilly Carr: But what?

Vernie Grant: But she has changed her mind.

Ruth Jenkins: I just had my face lifted.

Burton Brown: Well, who in the world would want that?

The Hot Dog Kennel

Under the spreading chestnut tree
The hot dog kennel stands.
The Greek a mighty man is he
Among his pots and pans.

He works from noon to night it seems,
His work it does not cease.
And so he rolls his nickels in
To pay for tomorrow's grease.

He cares not for the other man,
The filthy lure leads him on.
And ere he poisons all of us
The summer will be gone.

Myron Blank: "I sure found myself in hot water last Saturday night." (Read that over again.)

Lizzie Tinsides

With apologies to Holmes

Aye, rip her tattered curtains off,
Long flapped they in the breeze
And many a boy has fought to keep
Them closed so he wouldn't freeze.
Beneath her rattled her loose grease pan,
And burst her tires often,
But this terror of the thoroughfares,
Is headed for her coffin.

Her seats are often wet with rain,
Her top has holes untold,
Her paint has peeled, and leather torn,
For she is very old.
No more she'll feel the turning crank
Or hear her master's voice,
She's headed for the used-car dump,
Poor thing, she has no choice.

'Tis best her wrecked and misused hulk,
Be lost amid that trash,
Her relatives have there found peace
When they've had their final smash.
So remove the spark plugs that are left,
And use them in another,
A last and longing fond farewell,
She's gone to join her brother!
Virginia A. Johnston.

Have you noticed the curly eyelashes on these young high school students? Well the secret is out at last. EYELASH CURLERS!
And have you noticed Marie's new way of speaking? Really our idea is that Miss Lampman is lisping for fun.

Little Miss Junkins
Sat eating pumpkins
On a cafeteria stool.
'Long came young Billy
To make her less chilly,—
As was the usual rule.

Tiny Baby Lampman
Went out to the postman
To get the morning mail.
When she got there
The box was quite bare
For her Ole was in jail.

Milo Coughlin: "If we were watching a train and as it came into sight I were to say, 'Here it comes,' which one of us would be right?"

John Butler: "Why, I suppose 'Here it comes' would be correct."

Milo Coughlin: "Neither one of them
You see it was a mail train."

The thundering herds call
Echoes through Roosevelt's halls,
It is Junior High
Just passing by
No more need be said: that's all.

'Twas many and many a day ago
In a room across the hall
Then I sat and thought by the hour
Of the shock that was to fall,
For my news it was unwritten!
And I knew what was in store;
So I thought I best be quittin'
'Fore Miss Meers knew any more.

William Weeks and Teddy Brown are the champions of the town.
When they start
They never part
Till they pull ten dollars down.

Father: "Young man, I understand you have made advances to my daughter."

Clarence C.: "Yes; I wasn't going to say anything about it, but since you have mentioned it, I wish you would get her to pay me back."

Reba Mote said we never had a joke about her in the Roundup. Here it is:

"Memories" of "My Blue Heaven" make me "Broken Hearted." When "Annabel Lee" with her "Crazy Words (and) Crazy Tune" croons the "Russian Lullaby" it makes "Me and My Shadow" think of "My Home, Sweet Home" with its "Melancholy Baby." "My Ohio Home" by "Muddy Waters" always sent me "Drifting and Dreaming" about "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" who is "The Girl of My Dreams." Every night I say to her picture "Are You Thinking of Me Child" as I called her "Always," said "She Didn't Wanna To." "Mary Lou" said "Is She Your Girl Friend" and I said yes ever since "Henry Made a Lady Out of Lizzie." I pleaded to her "Forgive Me" and said "I Want to Call You My Sweetheart" and she said "Well, Just Once Again." I then said "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry" "Old Pal" but "I'm Looking for a Girl named Sally" and then she got sore and said "Yes, We Have No Bananas."

Byron out for tennis came
To put his name in the hall of fame.

But—it brought many woes,
(As the story goes)

For there were also others in the game.

M. Crawford was a dear little miss
With eyes like the stars and lips fit to kiss.
She acts like she studies like all little dears
And has got along fine for all of these years
But now is the time that should strengthen her fears,—

For plainly, I don't think she's foolin' Miss Meers.

A collage of 21 black and white photographs from the 1940s, featuring students in various settings. The photos are arranged in a grid-like fashion on a dark background. The subjects are primarily young men, likely students, captured in candid or posed moments. Some photos show individuals in formal attire like suits and ties, while others show them in more casual clothing like sweaters and slacks. The settings vary from indoor spaces to outdoor areas, possibly a school courtyard or a street. The overall tone is nostalgic and personal, typical of mid-20th-century yearbook photography.

Milo Bowers: We recommend the Eugene Wave given at the Beauty Shoppe as the most lasting and natural wave.

Ray Harden: Before going to see M——, we suggest that you spend a profitable hour reading Hoyle's How to Keep Up a Conversation.

Charles Clark: We recommend The Utica for louder and brighter ties.

Witmer Rumsey: Your success with our manual on "How to Write Deep Poetry in the Past" inspires us to recommend our advance book on the subject.

Clarence Cooper: In reply to your question on how to prepare for initiation, we suggest one asbestos union suit, one bottle Sloan's Liniment, and one violet-ray machine to soothe the nerves.

John Barlow: Replying to your request about the care of a pony we suggest that you keep it under cover since Miss Schreiner has a pet aversion to horses.

David Bair: To your hurried letter on how to get better acquainted with a girl we recommend a buggy ride after 9:00 P. M. (It must be completed.)

Mr. Chester Cornelius Carrothers: Answering your long, logical enlightening epistle on the origination of subtle wit, we thank you for your information and suggest that for further education you study the latest Whiz Bang.

Clifford Jordan: Replying to yours of the last week we suggest that to become supreme in track that you learn the rudimentary principles first.

Dishes vs. Soft Hands

There was a time when dish washing meant loss of beauty to your hands.

And, naturally you were not exactly thrilled when you had to place your soft, lovely hands in hot, soapy — sometimes greasy dishwater.

Then, along with many new things of the last few years came a new kind of hand lotion. It was really different. Not sticky or thick like ordinary old-fashioned lotions, but a clear, fragrant lotion that dried quickly.

The girls soon discovered that it protected the pores from the irritating action of hot soapy water. They said it was just like an invisible glove. And so they always asked the druggist for

This one face powder need not be renewed at odd moments in your busy life of today

Face powders that protected the frail, sheltered beauty of yesterday cannot hope to meet today's needs. Life has changed. The modern girl spends hours in the open air. Her life is vigorous and active. It needed a new face powder, the perfect powder, thanks to Armand. Armand Cold Cream Powder does not have to be renewed frequently. It stays on for hours in any weather. The effect of Armand Cold Cream Powder, with its fine texture, on any skin is natural—smooth. It keeps complexions fresh as the petals of a rose!

Wit and Witticisms for Half Wits
Did It Ever Happen to You?

A pretty girl sat in a railroad train
As lonesome as she could be;
And she said to herself with a little sigh,
"If he'd only talk to me;"
The young man sat just across the aisle
From the girl with the pretty stare,
And he said to himself, "If I'd sit with her
I wonder if she would care?"
And so they rode the whole day long,
And neither one of them knew,
Just what the other was thinking of,
Did it ever happen to you?

She was a very beautiful girl and she had lots of money and a fine car. She loved a handsome boy who also had good clothes and a fine car. And to make matters worse he loved her but he would not take a date with her or she with him. Now isn't that tragic? Well maybe not as bad as it could be.

(Editor's Note) If this is a joke we'll bet the answer's good.

He was her brother.

T HAS been said that clothes are a man's personal trade-mark. People remember you by your appearance and the remembrance can make your reputation.

Successful men are keen to appreciate the value of making a good appearance and choose well tailored clothes of quality to help them accomplish it.

Custom tailormade clothes, designed from correct styles to your individual measurements are the only clothes that are made to fit you, personally.

Wear them and you have solved the problem of appearing well dressed at all times.

We make such clothes for a number of satisfied and successful men of Des Moines.

Miss Sperry: What do you think of George Washington, Max?

Max: Well, I guess he must have been pretty good to get his picture on everything from a postage stamp to a $10 bill.

Jeweler: If I were you I would not have, "George, to his dearest Fritz" engraved. If Fritz changes her mind you can't use the ring again.

George: What would you suggest?

Jeweler: "George, to his first and only love."

Vincent Lorenzo (speaking to Courtney Chasebeer): Your ancestors' battle cry was, "woof, woof!"

Younkers—the Store of Youth

The grandest time of the whole year has arrived. School is over, busy days are ahead. Young Moderns prefer sports . . . golf, tennis, riding motoring, hiking . . . each has its devotees, but to be a really good sport, one must wear the correct apparel. Choose whatever sport you enjoy most . . . but first to Younkers for your sport clothes!

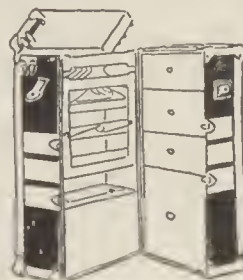

New Apparel . . . sport clothes are so expressive of this modern day youth. Here you will find a comprehensive collection of the newest, smartest styles, as well as all the proper accessories to accompany them . . . priced for economy!

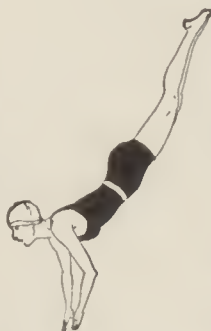

Golf . . . your game may be below par, but don't let your costume show it. What a collection of smart new models! Frocks, sweater and skirt combinations, sport ensembles and accessories . . . styles for comfort as well as smartness!

Tennis . . . don't play tennis in "left-overs" of your wardrobe. Even if you are no expert at the game, show that you are an expert in choosing appropriate apparel! Here you'll find unusual frocks and accessories to "complete" your game.

Swimming . . . a healthful sport! Attractive are the new suits that are on display in the Sportswear Section . . . "right-up-to-the-minute," too. Snug fitting, boyish styles or something fancier, and every wanted novelty to complete each type of outfit. These new swimming costumes will lure you in!

Travel . . . now one's thoughts are turning gladly toward the "going away" vacation. One's luggage must be as smart as one's apparel. Wardrobe trunks for long trips. Hat boxes, week-end cases, fitted bags, other essentials. Attractive new leathers and styles . . . don't miss seeing our display!

It's heaps-of-fun to shop . . . of course all Young Moderns (just like their elders) prefer the store of Youth . . . YOUNKERS!

May your vacation be a happy one!

Electricity at Work

POWER so flexible that it is taken from the same wires to run the household sweeper, to make the tiniest watch spring or to swing the gigantic locomotive on steel cables from the great electric crane—

Power so easily controlled and directed that pressing a button puts it to work or takes it off the job—

Power so readily transported that it is sent hundreds of miles over swaying wires hung on great steel towers, across hill and dale, to do its appointed tasks—

Power that has become the handmaid of the home, the partner of business, the stand-by of industry—

That is electricity as now harnessed to the needs and comforts of modern life, to the development of industry, commerce and agriculture in this community as in every other community of this America, the country which has learned best how to make electrical energy the burden bearer of the race.
